County Starts Work On Central Ave. Extension

A crew of county surveyors is driving grading stakes marking the route of the extension of Central avenue through the Hastings ranch into Pasadena. A headquarters office from which the road building will be directed is being thrown up at Central and Sierra Madre avenues.

City Spends $8,694.02 Job Relief

Municipal Projects Furnish Employment For Many Local Citizens In Need

Unemployment relief work of the city has cost $8,694.02 in municipal funds and given employment since July 1 last to more than 125 men, according to a financial report submitted today to City Business Manager Al S. Myers by the city auditor.

The men hired under this relief work were all employed in addition to the regular city employees. In addition, the fact was also brought out strongly that every portion of the various improvements comprise permanent improvements and are not makeshift, temporary projects.

A majority of the men have been hired at 50 cents an hour, have been rotated on street and other improvement projects, and total 93. In addition to these, who are physically suited for any manual labor, less able bodied men have been engaged in lighter tasks on parkways and in Bailey Canyon, the report disclosed.

Although activities of the Central relief committee has supplied countless temporary jobs of an hour or more, the greater part of the jobs coming under the head of unemployment relief have been met by city employment.

The total number of unemployed registered with the Central relief committee number about 200, of which about 15 are women, according to W. R. Humphries, committee chairman. There has been little trouble in placing the women, he said, their number being small enough to fill those positions offered by local housewives. In the last month, he said, four have been placed in permanent jobs.

Despite the fact that requests for work to the committee have decreased, there were 22 new unemployed who registered during the month of March, Mr. Humphries said.

The relief chairman voiced a plea that property owners and others finding small job work necessary have the work done through the relief committee, which can be reached by telephoning 309. Capable, trustworthy people will be assigned to do the work, he said.

Mr. Humphries said some of the unemployed possibly could partially alleviate their situation by careful thought, possibly making it unnecessary to call upon the relief committee for assistance.

"For instance," he said, "there is a young fellow around town who was badly in need of work. He figured out the amount of water wasted by leaky faucets, then interviewed housewives and found enough leaky faucets to re-

WORLD TRAVELER TO ADDRESS MEN'S CLUB

The Men's Community Club will hold its April meeting at 8 p.m. on Thursday, April 7th, according to an announcement of Elmer A. Green, president.

Dr. Luther Freeman, of the Pilgrim Congregational Church at Pomona, will give an intimate talk on "Impressions from a World Tour." Dr. Freeman has recently returned from spending a year in Europe and Asia and will have much to say about Russia. He is a fluent speaker and a large attendance is anticipated. The meeting will be open to the public.

See P. L. Hobart If You Are A Skeptic

"If you hear of anyone who is skeptical about the worth of want or any other kind of ads in 'The News' you are at liberty to refer them to me," said Paul L. Hobart as he dropped in to order the restoration of an ad he carried last week offering oranges for sale.

"Your last week's issue had scarcely been delivered," continued Mr. Hobart, "until orders started coming in by telephone and the townspeople began to drive up in their cars to carry the oranges away. The ad certainly solved a problem for me."

flying not later than Monday, according to County Road Superintendent George W. Jones and the project for which Sierra Madre has been fighting for 24 years—direct connection with the outside world—will be under way.

It will not be possible to finish the roadway in anything like the time required to improve Central avenue within the city, for which the City induced the county to make an appropriation so that the new highway will be uniform from the eastern boundary of this city into Pasadena.

When workmen are turned loose on the eastern end of the job at Sierra Madre avenue it will be necessary to divert much traffic now coming into the Wistaria Fete over the route of the new road, routing it in by way of Rosemead boulevard and Sierra Madre avenue.

Mrs. Barlow To Show African Pictures Thursday, April 14

Thursday, April 14th, has been selected as the date for the presentation by Mrs. W. Jarvis Barlow of motion pictures and a lecture on African life. The entertainment was scheduled for last January but postponed owing to the sudden death of Mrs. Barlow's mother.

The program will be given in the Parish House of the Church of the Ascension. Those who made reservations for the earlier date and turned back their tickets, will be given preference in reservations for the affair.

Requests for tickets last January exceeded the seating capacity. The pictures to be shown were taken by Mrs. Barlow during the recent world trip of Dr. and Mrs. Barlow.

ELLA SHEPARD BUSH, ONE OF AMERICA'S GREAT ARTISTS, FINDS INSPIRATION HERE

FAMED the world over for her miniature painting, Ella Shepard Bush, for 16 years one of Sierra Madre's most distinguished citizens, stands peerlessly at the head of an art of "the most aristocratic tradition."

Her story is less the story of her life than of her accomplishments. Miss Bush's studio—el Estudio de la Hermosa Vista—the studio of the beautiful view, at 223 West Laurel, is simple of design, rustic. The large north window looks to the mountains, framing a flowering tree. All about the building are gardens. Here, with the exception of the portraits in noted collections, are some of the 115 miniatures she has painted since 1903. Many of these have been exhibited in New York, London, Boston, Santa Barbara, San Francisco, Philadelphia.

Miss Bush is recognized in the world of art as among the few masters of miniature painting Sierra Madre is a quiet, beautiful place to work, she says. Personally she is quiet and reserved, in keeping with the aristocratic air of her surroundings. About herself she is diffident in speech, about her art she is enthusiastic and eloquent.

The miniatures themselves are exquisite. With wide experience in oil painting Miss Bush's technique is perfect. Under a powerful glass her miniatures retain their flawless composition, the color gradations and blendings a delight. Painted with water colors on ivory, the background of some give the impression that the painting has been done on mother-of-pearl.

Ivory, Miss Bush states, is at the same time the most modern and the most ancient material used in painting. The cave men of long lost centuries ago carved and painted on the ivory tusks of now extinct beasts. And today the miniature lays his delicate brush down on ivory that allows greater freedom than absorbent paper, and serves at the same time to bring a fresh glow through the pigment of the paint. A glow that presents an illusion of life to the tinted skin which no photograph may come near equaling.

The belief that a sound art education can only be had in Europe, and that the great artists have all been dead for centuries is proven a foolish layman's fallacy by the case of Miss Bush. She studied at the Art School in Washington, D.C., and in the Art Students League of New York. She is firm in her conviction that while the merit of the old masters—in the miniature field in particular—cannot be doubted, still there is no reason to slight the possibilities of our own times. And in addition to her creative

Observations

—By LEE SHIPPEY—

AFTER seeing the wistaria, visitors should drive east on Grand View avenue to see the mountain lilac, or whatever it is, near the Dickinson place. It is worth driving miles to see.

This isn't just a one-vine town. The garden trips inaugurated by Mrs. Halsey and Miss Jones a couple of years ago were the biggest bid for the appreciation of the right kind of folks this town ever made. The vine is a National marvel, but you have to go into Sierra Madre's private gardens to fully realize the charm of this town—and its people. We can't ever forget Mrs. Halsey.

P.S.—The thumbscrews and torture-chamber tactics of old time were not so good, but we'd like to go back to those times long enough to have Mr. Torquemada work on Mr. Rosner, until he told every last one of his reasons for giving out positive announcements about the Lindbergh baby.

Kidnapping is pretty bad, and when police-napping is added to it the result is intolerable.

Mrs. Hoover Spends An Hour Under The Old Wistaria Vine

Mrs. Herbert Hoover Jr., was among Wednesday's visitors to Sierra Madre's Wistaria Fete.

Observers reported Mrs. Hoover spent more than an hour in inspecting vine and other attractions of the Fete. Every nook, corner, bush and blossom received its just due, and when the visitor departed she was in a state of thrillment to the beauties of the vine, it was said.

Opening Of Great Fete Is Colorful

Wistaria Festival Begins With Luncheon Under The World Famous Vine

By John Copeland
Sierra Madre's world-famed Wistaria Fete opened yesterday to the gay tunes of old Mexican guitars, and with the perfume of the lavender blossoms heavy on the Spring air.

Two thousand or more guests from all over Southern California were welcomed by unusually pretty girls made more fascinating by beautiful colonial costumes of gay yellows and pinks and blues.

A kaleidoscope of color—the gold of the fruit on the orange trees, the yellow of the lemons, the innumerable colors of the garden flowers, the spring clothes of the visitors, the decorated booths—greeted the eye. And all about—the wistaria flowers, hanging like so many Japanese lanterns and canaries in green cages, singing.

Decorating the luncheon table where sat prominent guests from out of town and from Sierra Madre were red and purple and white sweet peas, with fern. And nearly eclipsing the loveliness of the wistaria itself, white Cherokee and pink Brabant roses to the south of the Fennel grounds caused many exclamations of delight.

Heads of all the important civic and social organizations in Sierra Madre were among the guests of honor at the luncheon served under the vine. Present to acknowledge the opening of one of the outstanding events of the kind in California were widely known public officials, newspapermen, artists and radio announcers. All were introduced to those assembled by Chief Richards of the fire department, under whose capable direction the fete was opened this season.

When called upon, Colonel H. B. Hersey paid a fine tribute to the Volunteer Fire Department. Seymour Hastings, radio announcer, told of some of the wonderful flowers and gardens he has seen during his extensive travels, and ended by quoting from the popular song, "I Love You, California."

The Montez trio, who play on Los Angeles' historic Olivera Street, moved from spot to spot in the garden, singing and playing. Their Mexican costumes formed a colorful contrast to the Colonial costumes, which were chosen because of the Washington bi-centennial celebration being held the country over during the six months following the birthday of the Nation's first president.

Tonight the San Gabriel Valley unit of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association will be guests at the Fete, having dinner under the great old vine—the dinner to begin before sunset and continue until the vine is illuminated for the first night session of the festival ever held.

Brother And Sister Of Local Woman Die Within Two Hours

The home of Dr. and Mrs. M. R. McBurney, 646 West Central avenue, has been saddened by the passing of Mrs. McBurney's brother, H. W. White of Harlanburg, Pa., and sister, Mrs. L. D. Bowser of Beaver Falls, Pa. Mr. White was returning from the bedside of his sister, Mrs. Bowser, who had been very ill for some weeks, when he dropped with a heart attack. There was just two hours difference between the deaths of brother and sister.

Sierra Madre Wistaria

Wistaria, O, queenly blossom,
With fragrant robes that scent the air,
While eager thousands pay you homage
On your vine-clad throne up there.

In Sierra Madre's arms soft cradled,
And nurtured by Aurora's flame,
You grew in splendour on your hillside
Till lo! one day you waked to fame.

Like Egypt's lovely queen of romance,
"Age cannot wither" . . . stale your charms,
As from your fragrant throne down-bending,
You take your lovers to your arms.

School Director Will Be Elected By Sierra Madre Today

A school director to serve for three years will be elected by the people of Sierra Madre today. There is but one polling place, at the school house. It will be open from 9 this morning until 5 o'clock this evening. The term of Rudolph R. Hartman, president of the board, expires. He is a candidate to succeed himself and is unopposed, but his friends fear names may be written in on the ballot, jeopardizing his reelection, so they are working to get out a large vote as well to reward Mr. Hartman for faithful service to the community.

Pass Emergency Measure To Carry Unemployment Relief Program Through

Resolutions Adopted By City Council Aim To Prevent Stoppage Of Work On Central Avenue Improvement
And Other Paving Projects For Which Petitions Have Been Filed And Against Which Injunction Proceedings
Have Been Instituted—

Continued employment on public projects was assured Sierra Madre's jobless when the City Council on Wednesday night adopted an emergency resolution designed to carry through the work now under way here and prevent interference with the expenditure of $16,000 given the city by the county government for the improvement of Central avenue.

The purpose of the Council's action is to overcome any obstacles that may be encountered in going ahead with the

RESOLUTION DECLARES IT IMPERATIVE TO SUPPLY WORK

This is the text of a resolution adopted by the City Council on Wednesday to guarantee that pending and threatening injunction and other legal proceedings shall not prevent the carrying through of Sierra Madre's unemployment relief program by the employment of jobless citizens on public work paid for almost wholly by affected property owners who petition for street improvements.

"WHEREAS the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles realizes that an emergency exists in that there is an unusual number of unemployed in the City of Sierra Madre, and that the need of employment is imperative to safeguard life, health, and property; and

"WHEREAS the Board of Supervisors have presented to the City of Sierra Madre sums of money for street work in order that the unemployed may be provided with work; and

"WHEREAS it is the opinion of the City Council of the City of Sierra Madre that the said funds should be used for the purposes designated by the said Board of Supervisors and that the said unemployed should be furnished with work without delay, and that an emergency exists requiring the employment of these good citizens of Sierra Madre—

"THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the said City Council of the City of Sierra Madre that an emergency exists requiring the immediate expenditure of public money to safeguard life, health and property, and the Street Superintendent of said City of Sierra Madre is hereby instructed to employ as many of said citizens as possible for the repair and resurfacing of streets in the City of Sierra Madre, particularly that portion of Central Avenue between the central line of Baldwin Avenue and the Easterly city limits of Sierra Madre."

An accompanying resolution guarantees that the improvement of Central avenue with funds furnished by Los Angeles county shall go forward regardless of the pending injunction proceedings or other efforts that may be resorted to obstruct the project.

Two Sunrise Services To Be Held Here

Sierra Madre's devout will gather shortly before dawn Sunday in the foothills above the city to participate in twin Easter Sunrise services. Residents from other nearby communities will also join in the observance.

The services will be held on Inspiration Point and Marlborough Terrace, the first under the auspices of the Canyon Improvement Association and Episcopal Churches and the second under sponsorship of Bethany Church.

The community sunrise service at Inspiration Point will begin at 5:45. Dean Bode, of the Church of the Ascension and Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, of the Congregational Church, will conduct the service.

Standing at the foot of the cross which surmounts the point, the congregation will sing the familiar Easter hymns and hear a reading of the old but ever new story of the First Easter. Prayers of comfort will be offered.

"The Risen Life," will be taken as the topic of the Easter address.

Inspiration Point is reached by following Sturtevant Road and Woodland Drive to Alta Vista Drive. Plenty of parking space is available near the Point.

Church services at the Congregational Church, beginning at 11 a.m. will be largely musical, with choir rendering "From the Sepulchre to the Throne," by Shepherd. Mr. Pritchard will preach on "Life Everlasting."

The Bethany Church sunrise service at Marlborough Terrace will be under the direction of Pastor William Duncan Ogg, who will give the address. Rev. Mr. Ogg's sermon during the regular morning service will be "The Resurrection and its Revelations." Special Easter music has been prepared.

A Choral Eucharist, Procession Anthem and Easter offering will comprise the 11 o'clock Sunday service at the Church of the Ascension.

Regular Sunday masses will be held from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. at St. Rita's Shrine. The last mass will be a high mass.

Contest For City Offices Takes Shape

Lines Are Clearly Drawn In Fight For Two Seats In The City Council

The lines were drawn for Sierra Madre's municipal election of April 11 at noon Tuesday when the time for the filing of petitions by candidates expired. The voter will have a choice among four candidates for the two Councilmen to be chosen, two candidates from which the next City Clerk will be named and two from which to select a City Treasurer.

The nominating petition of Thomas W. Neale, well known Baldwin avenue realty dealer and service officer of the American Legion, was the last paper to go on record. Mr. Neale is a candidate for City Treasurer.

Petitions bearing nearly 200 names as sponsors of his candidacy were offered, but the law permitting but ten signers to a petition, only one was accepted. It bears the names of Robert C. Copenhagen, Tom Tyler, Charles E. Davis, Thomas Solury, A. N. Adams, Warren E. Craig, H. C. Scott, Rev. William Duncan Ogg, Vincent Fleming and William M. Doughty.

Waverly E. Pratt who several weeks ago announced his candidacy for City Clerk against Elmer A. Green, incumbent, filed his petition on Saturday, signed by Emil Sturmthal, William E. Burns, Vincent Fleming, Frank A. Spencer, Oscar Rasback, William J. Schiltz, Francis Eakman, Rec Stanbery, Robert C. Copenhagen and Mrs. Fletcher White.

Former Councilman G. F. Blakeslee circulated the petitions of A. M. Udell and D. F. Morton, Councilmanic candidates of the Belohavek-Isaacs faction and endorsed by the executive committee of the Protective and Improvement Association. The petition of Mr. Udell was signed by William J. Schiltz, Olive McClesney, Agnes Woehler, Arthur Carter, Mrs. B. H. Porter, E. A. Dickinson, Thomas F. Yerxa, M. L. True, Ben Solnit, and Carl Graf.

RESOLUTION DECLARES IT IMPERATIVE TO SUPPLY WORK

The resolution declares an emergency to exist by reason of the large number of unemployed here and that the need of employment is imperative to safeguard life and property.

"The most important thing in any community at this time is to provide employment for those of its own citizens who can and will work," said City Solicitor Phil Dodson in explaining the purpose of the resolution after the Council meeting, "and the action taken by the Council is to guarantee this employment in Sierra Madre regardless of the efforts that have or may be made to obstruct the public business for political or other purposes."

"It has been semi officially announced that within a short time there will be further resort to injunction and other proceedings similar to those instituted to halt the work on Central avenue and to set aside Ordinance 348."

"The emergency resolution merely assures that the work in hand will go forward pending a final decision on these efforts at obstruction and that a large number of men shall not be deprived of the means of a livelihood in the meantime."

"It seems unspeakable, under the circumstances that men should go idle and their families hungry while there is money at hand to carry through the work undertaken here without having to use money out of the city's general fund."

Of two resolutions adopted one declares an emergency to exist and authorizes the work to proceed. The other aims to prevent interference with expenditure of the $16,000 given the Council by the county for the work now under way on Central avenue. It directs City Business Manager Al S. Myers to proceed with this work as an emergency measure in the manner already designed by the Council's resolution of intention and to employ as many men as possible. It directs that "the cost and expense of said work (on Central avenue) be paid from the funds secured from the County of Los Angeles now in the general funds of the City of Sierra Madre, to be partially reimbursed by the amounts received from property owners on said street."

The first resolution declaring an emergency to exist is published in full on the first page of this issue of The News.

Extra Fine Weather For Wistaria Fete, Hersey's Promise

Col. H. B. Hersey today ordered good weather for the week-end "in order to help the fete along." "Everything," Sierra Madre's own weatherman declared, "indicates we will have fine weather due in the next few days—seemingly something special for the Wistaria Fete. I believe—in fact I hope—however, that Sierra Madre has one more good rain due before the dry spell sets in."

The Chamber of Commerce at its meeting on Monday night voted its approval and pledged its co-operation in a plan of the Garden Section of the Woman's Club to beautify the business district while the Olympic games visitors are in Southern California.

The women propose that Central and Baldwin avenues be lined with huge flower pots, ablaze with blooming plants.

They asked that the merchants be requested to use the tubs in which their Christmas trees were planted during the holidays. The Chamber of Commerce was asked to see that the tubs are all painted up—the same color—and filled with good, rich soil. It was unanimously agreed.

The women will donate and plant the flowers. The merchants are merely asked to give them space on the curb in front of their stores—and to water them daily.

BOY SCOUTS

Sierra Madre's Scouts are preparing plans for a paper drive to raise funds to carry on scouting activities, while members of the general committee and citizens finance committee also carry forward efforts to finance local troops as members of the Valley Council.

The two adult committees, however, are faced with a number of difficulties, but are making headway, according to Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, chairman of the finance committee.

At a meeting last week the finance committee set April 6, 7 and 8 as campaign days for the raising of funds through subscriptions and donations. William Barry, R. O. Caukin and H. E. Allen, of the general committee are co-operating with Rev. Mr. Pritchard. Troop No. 2 did not meet during Holy Week, but will gather again March 30th. Weekly meetings thereafter will be held every Wednesday night. Several members of the troop spent several days during the week in Bailey Canyon.

Troop 1 is preparing plans for the paper drive, proceeds of which will go toward the building of a mountain cabin.

First "All-Star" "Nite" Ball Clash Booked Tonight

With several weeks of practice behind them, members of the Sierra Madre "All Stars," starting aggregation of "nite ball" players, today were pointing toward the game to be played April 1st against the champion "Dog Biscuit" nine from Glendale.

Last year the two teams met in a hotly fought 12-inning game, finally won by the local team, 4 to 3. The local nine expects the biscuit shooters to be hunting for revenge, and have determined to prevent their getting it. The local "All Stars" team is still unselected.

Frank P. Meyers today declared formation of the Simonizers, who played in the city "nite ball" league last year, depends upon outcome of plans to form a hard ball team here. If the hard ball team is formed his entire efforts will be devoted to that group. If it cannot be formed, he said, the Simonizers will appear in the league, probably with one or two new players.

The Legion lost a hotly fought pre-season game last Friday night when the Icemens scored an extra tally to win 7 to 6. The game was well played, and indicated both teams are rounding into top notch form.

The Legion nine plays their first out of town opponents tonight when they will be hosts to the Monterey Park Legion team at the local school field. The game is expected to be a tailtwister.

Girl Hiker Hurt As She Falls From Trail

Suffering from shock and a painful cut on her knee sustained when she fell while hiking on 17th Wilson trail, Miss Ito Upton, 15, of Long Beach, late Wednesday afternoon received emergency treatment from Dr. G. W. Groth.

Miss Upton was given treatment after the fire department First Aid crew, under Joseph Swanson, answered a telephone call from the half way announcing that "some one fell off a cliff in the canyon."

Miss Upton was one of a party of six young people taking a holiday hike.

FUNERAL TOMORROW OF MRS. LEOLA ADAMS

Mrs. Leola A. Adams, 44 West Carter avenue, passed away at her home Wednesday afternoon. She is survived by her husband, E. Burke Adams, and three children, E. Burke Jr., Andrew and Patricia.

A native of Ottumwa, Iowa, Mrs. Adams lived in California for more than a quarter of a century and resided in this city for three years.

Services are scheduled for tomorrow at 10 a.m. at Grant Funeral Parlor, 201 East Central, with the Rev. Mr. Burton, of Arcadia, officiating. Interment will be in Oakdale Cemetery, Glendora.

SOME CAT—BORN ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY, HAS ITS 15th BIRTHDAY

St. Patrick shared his honors here last week when "Buster," the Maltese cat of Mrs. Jessie Suthers, of 537 North Auburn avenue, celebrated his 15th birthday.

The day was memorable for "Buster" for the added reason that the life of a cat, with all nine lives included, rarely exceeds 12 years.

"Buster" also has another claim to distinction, for he has been a resident of Sierra Madre for eight years. Everything being considered, that's no mean record for a cat.

Contract Let For Job To Employ More Than 1,000 Workmen

Contracts for a 255 foot flood control dam at Site No. 2, in San Gabriel Canyon, have been awarded by the county board of supervisors to the Mocco and Lewis Construction company for their combined bids of $2,086,950.

More than 1,000 men will be employed on the project, all to be drawn from the county's quota of unemployed. County Flood Control Engineer E. C. Eaton, announced.

Actual start on the job, which marks resumption of major activity in the canyon, where work ceased October, 1929, with abandonment of the high dam, will get under way within 60 days, it is claimed. Approximately three years will be required to complete the structure.

WISTARIA ARBOR IN RIKEMAN'S WINDOW

As is their custom during the annual Wistaria Fete, the Rikemans' of 31 North Baldwin avenue, are displaying another attractive "Wistaria" window for the benefit of out-of-town guests and Sierra Madre residents. A wistaria laden arbor is depicted, accompanied by photos and paintings of the world famous Wistaria Vine.

RECEPTION BY EASTERN STAR TO BE ARRANGED

The ladies of the Social Club of the Order of the Eastern Star will meet Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Blanche Buie, 257 West Laurel avenue. Favors will be made for the entertainment of the deputy grand matron in April and plans for a card party to be given April 2 will be arranged.

By Henry Ivins Hawthurst
I promised recently to further discuss the subject of color as used and applied by painters. Before we go more fully into the subject let us pause a moment and make a few analogical comparisons.

Self expression—If I may use the phrase to its fullest extent—antedates the advent of man upon our earth.

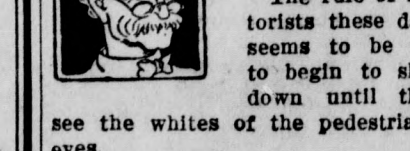

Taken in their order, dancing came first, then song, then historic expression and last but by no means least, came the art of visualizing in line, mass and color all of the forms of self expression combined.

In my last article I stated that night would be devoid of color were it not for artificial lighting. Bearing this fact in mind it is easy to understand why the great majority of us dislike the dark. There is something 'spooky' about 'darkness'. When analyzed this 'spookiness' is due to the physical absence of the vibrations, recognized as color, which permeates us during the daytime.

The vibrations from different colors affects our emotions in direct ratio to their individual vibrations. Red is the most exciting and stimulating color in the list—deep orange is next. Pink excites our emotions but is more poetically passive. At the other extreme of our color vibration reflexes are delicate blue and green. These colors are very restful to us. The blue of the sky is restful. A passive green pool of water is restful.

To take the three primary colors—red, blue and yellow, with their more than five hundred variations and to analyze their vibration effects upon human emotions would be the study of a lifetime and I most generously pass the buck to Mr. Einstein whose study of relativity would probably help him out with the job.

In a later article I will get down to brass tacks and discuss a few angles about painting pictures which I hope will be of interest.

The rule of motorists these days seems to be not to begin to slow down until they see the whites of the pedestrian's eyes.

Parkways Coming Into Bloom Give An Idea Of Real Beauty

Many of the new geranium and verbena plants that line the parkways on Central avenue from Sierra Madre avenue to the business district are already in bloom, giving promise of the beautiful sight they will afford by midsummer when the Olympic crowds arrive.

A number of people owning property along the main street have followed the example set by the Woman's Club in planting the front of vacant lots as well as the parkways. The lots to the east and west of the club house were planted with narcissi, geranium, phlox and various other colorful flowers in an attempt to furnish a model for individuals to work from.

Local Boys Active In The Adolph Zadik Aleph

Sierra Madreans will take leading parts when Pasadena Chapter No. 48, Order of Adolph Zadik Aleph, conducts Sabbath services at Temple B'nai Israel, Pasadena, tonight, as part of a nation-wide commemoration sponsored by the order.

Speaker for the occasion will be Joseph B. Weiss, whose topic will be "Judaism and the Young Jew." Harold Keltz will lead the services and President Ruben Brown will offer closing remarks. Joe Shapiro of this city, treasurer of the chapter, is a member of the Pasadena Junior College band touring Nevada and Utah.

TEMPLE BETH ISRAEL PLANS ENTERTAINMENT

The first dinner to be held in the new Temple Beth Israel, Lima and Laurel avenues, will be given on Sunday evening by Mrs. D. Resnick and Mrs. B. Solnit. The dinner, which will be served at 5 o'clock, will be followed by a concert, arranged by Mrs. Clara Hammer, teacher of the Hebrew school. Students of the school and guest artists from Los Angeles will furnish an interesting program. All friends of the Temple are cordially invited.

BREAKFAST HERE AFTER EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

Following Sunrise Services on Easter morning, a breakfast will be given by Mrs. Frederick S. Ackley for about 30 members of her Sunday School class of the First M. E. Church, Pasadena, at her home, 661 West Central avenue.

Its appetite for glory and publicity whetted by winning the sweepstakes prize in this year's Tournament of Roses parade, San Marino is about to launch its campaign for a float for next year's pageant. The most favored plan for the raising of the necessary fund is to ask a subscription of one dollar from every citizen.

The petition for one of the leading candidates for the City Council in Upland was signed exclusively by women. The candidate is a man.

The Claremont Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the proposed tramway to the top of Mt. Baldy because operation of the enterprise would bring thousands of visitors to enjoy the sensation of ascending from the flower and orange groves to the ice and snow on the mountain side.

The patent paving interests are pulling their usual battle over the material to be used in the repaving of Colorado street in Pasadena. The county road department is trying to get out from under in the scrap between the "black" pavement and the concrete trust, announcing that it is up to Pasadena to decide the sort of surface that shall be laid.

In a total registration of 2089 for the April municipal election in El Monte, 736 voters are enrolled as Democrats—the largest Democratic registration in the city's history.

Monrovia's political experts admit themselves all at sea over that city's registration. In a total registration of 5098 the women outnumber the men by 276. But that isn't the perplexing feature. The number who refused to give their party affiliations was 688. The Republicans numbers 3470, the Democrats 1322, Socialists 13 and Prohibitionists 15.

Claremont's Republican majority would seem to be in no serious danger this year. In a total registration of 1214 there are 942 Republicans and 181 Democrats. Only 66 refused to give their party affiliations. The women outnumbered the men by 194. The registration is 95 per cent of the eligible citizens.

Depositors in the closed Baldwin Park Savings Bank will be paid 80 per cent of their deposits, it was announced by Edward Rainey, state superintendent of Banks.

There was a substantial increase in the Republican registration in Covina where there are 1066 Republicans in a total registration of 1258, with 738 men and 794 women.

Women qualified to vote in Arcadia outnumbered the men by only seven. In a total registration of 2773 there are 1383 women. The G.O.P. enrollment is 1926 and the Democratic 688.

Members of Arcadia's American Legion post are building their own clubhouse. Forty men worked one day to get the foundation in. During the last week the floor beams were laid. Now the up-rights are in place.

MEXICO was depicted as a "land of contrasts" by Mrs. Lodema Garn Wickizer in an address before the Sierra Madre Woman's Club Wednesday morning when she told of her trip through Mexico with the California Press Association in January. She vividly described the customs, the beautiful scenery and flowers, and the hospitality of the people.

"In marked contrast to the non-progressive labor methods still in use among the peon classes is the high development of art and sculpture," said Mrs. Wickizer as she told of the beautiful cathedrals of Pueblo, which is called the "Rome of Mexico."

An interesting display of Mexican art objects from collections of various members and friends of the club made a colorful stage setting.

During the box-luncheon hour Mrs. O. B. Manchester prefaced her regular current event "Turning the Pages" with "Words are but breath, but where brave deeds were done, A power abides, transferred from sire to son."

"The Reckless Duke," Philip Gibbs, was stressed as an outstanding book depicting the earlier history of England and is recommended for the reader who likes mystery, tragedy and intrigue. Other books stressed were "Can Europe Keep the Peace," Frank Simonds; "The Harbour Master," William McFee, and "The Golden Age," by Philip Gibbs.

Mrs. Manchester closed the book review with the reading of Somerset Maugham's clever and humorous drama, "The Breadwinner."

Mr. Duetsch has a force of men to work, this week, at his cottage up the Wilson Trail. He has about as pretty a location there, amid the loveliest scenery, that can be found anywhere. It is well worth the trouble of a climb up the trail to see this delightful nook in the mountains. It looks like a choice bit stolen from Alpine scenery.

City Babies Cosy In New Park Clinic

Nurse And Mothers Pleased
Over Removal From City Hall Quarters

The mothers of Sierra Madre testify to the increased value of the new city health quarters in the Park House. Formerly located in the City Hall, the rooms of the county nurse, Mrs. Gertrude Humphries, were handicapped by lack of sufficient space.

When asked to comment on the change, Mrs. Humphries nodded toward a mother whose baby was deposited on the scales. "She can tell you more about than I . . . At first the mothers were afraid that their babies would catch cold while waiting in the outer room, but with the wood fire it is really quite warm. A lot of mothers have come to the new baby clinic now that they are accustomed to the change. And they like it much better than the old."

Although no equipment other than large table has been added to the clinic, the facilities are most complete and modern. The table holds the scales for weighing infants. It is easy to glean from the conversation of the mothers waiting with their children that they are thankful for the efficient advice and service afforded them by Dr. Adele Brown, the baby doctor, and Mrs. Humphries, the nurse.

Baby clinic is held the first and 3rd Thursdays of the month, and the 2nd and 4th Fridays are devoted to the chest clinic.

Canadians Will Hold Pageant At Westlake

A cordial invitation has been extended to all former Canadians now living in this district, and to all U. S. friends, to attend the big pageant and tableau at Westlake Park, Seventh and Alvarado streets, Los Angeles, the Sunday after Easter, April 3. Crowning of "Miss Canada," parade of the princesses, band concerts, drill corps of ladies as royal guard of honor, etc., are among the many features planned. There is no admission charge. The fete starts at noon.

Largest Cotton Tree in the World

This gigantic cotton tree, said to be largest of its kind in the world, stands in front of the Parliament building at Nassau, Bahamas. Note its size in comparison with the girls.

Local Ball Fans Seek Diamond On Hasting's Ranch

Depending upon the outcome of an interview with the owner of the Hasting's ranch, "hard" baseball in Sierra Madre today appeared much nearer a possibility than at any time during the past several weeks.

In early surveys of possible sites of a ball diamond the nearby ranch was passed over because of a belief the owner would insist the ball organization carry a full insurance coverage to protect him in case of accidents. Conversations held with ranch attaches this week, however, indicated Mr. Hastings might not maintain this attitude and would be willing to lease a portion of the property.

The land wanted by the local baseball organization, being formed under the guiding hand of Frank P. Meyers, lies west of South Sierra Madre avenue and north of Foothill boulevard. Meyers declared today he was expecting to obtain a personal interview with Hastings, and hoped to have material progress to report by next week.

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

EVERYTHING seems to be going along in fine shape at the Wistaria Fete so far, and if we have made a few mistakes, we will probably find them out very soon and learn from experience.

The ladies look quite "spiffy" in their Colonial costumes and from the people as they enter their cars, we hear many fine comments on this, particularly from the men folks. Some of the firemen are good enough sports to allow the visitors to think the girls in the Colonial dresses are daughters of firemen.

A carload of strangers pulled into the parking lot and as the women folks looked at the vine, the men folks looked at the Colonial dames. As there were not many blossoms on the vine, the ladies of the party did not want to stay, but they were finally persuaded to "go see the vine" by their male escorts.

Lots of cars blew into the parking ground during last Sunday's wind and the people informed us that the wind down in the valley was much worse than here. Despite the fact that the opening day was scheduled for Thursday, there were many visitors to the vine all week, commencing with a really big crowd on Sunday.

Andy Liscombe and Harlan Gerlach started out last Sunday mid-night in the midst of the strong wind, headed for Brawley, Indio and points south. No one knows just how far south they did go, but they returned and neither of them look any worse than as if they had been through a rail road wreck with all cars smashed.

Long after all the other boys have departed for their homes, our loyal, faithful, good and true captain of the First Aid Crew is working with figures and names over his time book at the Wistaria Fete. Joe has been assigned the responsibility as the official timekeeper and accountant. This is a big job and if Joe doesn't kick over the traces before we're through we should present him with a new horse collar.

We haven't had a fire for quite a spell and it would be very nice if the next fire would wait for a month or so—at least until the Fete is over.

No matter what criticism we may receive, the winter vouches that it is all with a wish that we be successful, with out Wistaria Festival. Everyone really wishes us well for our own and the city's sake.

FIRE'S OUT.

New Hoover Home Rushed For Family

President's Son Invents Air
Phones To Provide Safety
To Airplanes

With the departure of the Frank Picard family from the five-acre estate on North Sierra Madre avenue this week, arrangements were rushed for the remodeling ordered by the new owner, Herbert Hoover Jr., who, with his family, will probably occupy the house sometime in May. The work is said to involve the addition of several bedrooms to the present nine-room house.

Coincident with the announcement that the son of President Hoover will move to Sierra Madre, came the disclosure that young Mr. Hoover, who has been doing research work at the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, while serving as technical adviser of Western Air Express, devised an appliance that serves as a "guiding intelligence" for airplanes.

The machine enables pilots in the air and operators on the ground to talk back and forth as freely as people converse over telephones. Every 10 minutes, by means of earphones, and a microphone, a pilot can report his position and receive weather reports.

A second device, reported to have been perfected by the President's son, keeps operators on the ground in constant touch with the progress of a plane. Trouble in the air or a silent motor is instantly communicated to the ground directors. The machine is described as an application of the "block system to the air."

GIRLS DO TUMBLING STUNTS IN LIVELY BASKETBALL GAME

"I only fell down three or four times at that!" was the comment of Miss Irene Middough on the girl's basketball game which took place in the gym of the Congregational Church Monday night. This climaxed the fact that every one of the players was off her feet one or more times during the progress of the game. The floor was unusually slippery for an unknown reason.

A team comprising Dot Lichnog, Irene Middough, Evelyn Olsen and Angeline PerLee won over Missie Hawks, Dot Rananan, Virginia Roess, and Jane Holland by a score of 19-15.

Important Legion Posts Are Assigned To Hogan And Hill

Vacancies of executive committeeman and historian of the local Legion post, created through the death of Judge William R. Lasater, today were occupied by Harley Hogan and Collin Hill. Both new officers were elected Monday night when one of the largest meetings in recent months was held by the post at the City Hall.

Waverly Pratt, as chairman of the committee handling the "nite baseball" activities of the post, gave a report covering the added interest shown this year in the sport. Last year, he reported, only six players turned out on the opening practice night, while 20 players turned out this year.

Efforts are underway to have all past commanders have pictures taken of themselves, according to Roy H. Pickett, secretary, the pictures eventually to be hung in the Legion quarters.

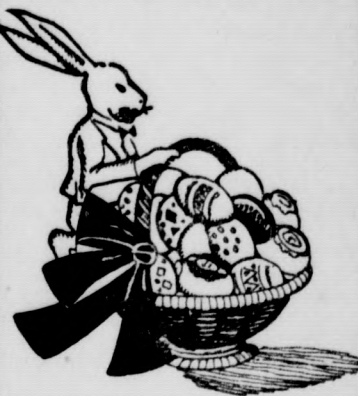

"To date, however," Pickett said, "the boys have been very shy. We haven't got a single picture for our Rogue's Gallery."

My Fellow Citizens

Following the formal announcement a month ago of my candidacy for the office of City Clerk of Sierra Madre, I have filed a nominating petition signed by representative citizens of our community. The political code regulates the number of persons who may sign such an instrument. Scores of other citizens volunteered to join in sponsoring my candidacy. For the most part they were friends and neighbors whose first consideration is the welfare of Sierra Madre and who have no concern about the advancement of any political clique or faction and who, in the event of my election, would expect nothing of me beyond the utmost of service to the community as a whole.

It is under these conditions that I am seeking the office. I have not sought the endorsement of and am not the candidate of any political interest whatsoever. If I am chosen to fill the position, my obligation will be only to the public.

I know I am qualified by training and experience to acceptably serve you as City Clerk. The only pledge I have or will make is to give the people the best and most courteous service of which I am capable, without regard to local political differences. I will be most grateful for your personal interest and support.

Faithfully yours,

Campaign On To Doom All Ghost Trees

Sierra Madre's campaign against "ghost" trees, dead, dying and diseased, is progressing satisfactorily with the county agricultural department securing from property owners legal authorizations to proceed with the work, according to an announcement today by Jessica H. Wright, of the local relief committee.

Numerous property owners already have given this authorization, and more are doing so daily, Mrs. Wright said. Actual work will not begin until a good proportion of the ground has been covered.

Work of clearing the dead trees, being extended throughout the county through efforts of the county agricultural commission, is simplified in Sierra Madre because of a survey conducted here sometime ago to determine the number of decadent trees existing here.

In a compilation made by the agricultural department it was estimated that on 250 properties in Sierra Madre and Altadena alone there are actually thousands of

Baby of Congress

W. Carleton Mobley of Macon, Ga., aged twenty-five years, now has the honor of being the youngest member of the national house of representatives. In the election to fill the unexpired term of the late Sam Rutherford of the Sixth Georgia district, Mr. Mobley polled more votes than his five opponents combined. He knows Washington well, for he served as secretary for Congressman Rutherford.

unsightly and abandoned trees. The tree cleanup campaign is serving a three-fold purpose. Not only does it rid orchards and properties of trees harboring insect pests, but it eliminates unsightly trees as a step in the Olympic beautification program, and in some communities has served as a means of occupying part of the town's unemployed. Certain organizations carrying on the work report that the wood, cut into fireside lengths, has been sold and returned approximately 70 per cent of the original outlay.

SCIENTIST LECTURER TO SPEAK IN SCHOOL

Peter V. Ross, C.S.B., of San Francisco, member of the board of lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., will come to Sierra Madre to deliver a free lecture on "Christian Science" in the public school auditorium, on Sunday evening, April 3 at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend and local members of the church expect a large crowd.

On next Monday Mr. Ross will broadcast an authorized Christian Science lecture over KECA, from 12:10 to 12:50 noon. The lecture will be delivered in Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles under the auspices of the Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist.

BRIDE RETURNS TO SCHOOL IN BAY CITY

Mrs. W. W. Bayard, formerly Miss Betty Lou Du Pont of San Francisco, bride of Walton W. Bayard, who was married in Yuma, Ariz., on March 4, has returned to her home in San Francisco to resume her studies at a high school there. Mr. and Mrs. Bayard enjoyed their honeymoon in Sierra Madre. Mr. Bayard is employed by the McKesson Drug company of Los Angeles. It is probable that they will reside in Sierra Madre after Mrs. Bayard graduates.

"Family Upstairs" In Rehearsal For Showing April 16

The play, "The Family Upstairs," which is to be staged by the Sierra Madre Players in the School Auditorium, April 16th, has been in intensive rehearsal for the two weeks. The cast includes Jim Hawks, Pamela Gaze, Katherine McClelland, Craig McLaughlin and James Kelleher. Several minor characters that appear in the third act of the play have yet to be selected. Mrs. Milton Steinberger, president of the new Community Players organization, is directing the play.

Jim Hawks, who is rated one of the best amateur players in Southern California, had a call this week to take a part in a new play to be presented at the Pasadena Playhouse. It is a story of Nebraska farm life. Although busy in Sierra Madre the character appealed to Hawks and he accepted. Fortunately Hawks is a "good study" so the double assignment is right in his line.

Clarence Huntsinger Takes Director's Seat

Clarence Huntsinger, in charge of the Sierra Madre office of the Southern Counties Gas Company took his place at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday, having been elected to fill the place on the board of directors made vacant by the resignation of Dr. M. H. A. Peterson. Dr. Peterson was unable to continue on the board because it meets during his regular office hours. Mr. Huntsinger's first committee assignment is with W. E. Craig in arranging to doll up the business district of the city as a part of the city beautification program.

Suit Asks Court To Stop Pasadena From Building Dam

The long expected action to stop Pasadena from the construction of its proposed dam in San Gabriel canyon, came this week when the San Gabriel Valley Protective Association filed a suit in Superior Court to enjoin the work. The complaint alleges that the "City of Pasadena threatened to use for itself alone the water supply commonly known as the San Gabriel watershed, which supplies several cities and numerous private water companies."

On the heels of the action Pasadena officials set on foot a move to effect a compromise between that city, the protective association and the Metropolitan Water District. W. G. Irving, Pasadena's water counsel will represent the city at a conference at the office of Henry W. O'Melveny, Los Angeles, who represents the association. It is said that Pasadena is ready to agree, if permitted to build its Pine Canyon dam, to relinquish all rights to San Gabriel water, when the Colorado river water is available.

Railroad Veterans Receive Huge Sums

Southern Pacific Company has paid a total of $12,644,031 in pensions to veteran employees of its service since the establishment of the railroad's automatic pension provisions in 1903.

Its pension payments for February, 1932, totaled $106,234.48, with 1,777 old-time roadroaders receiving the benefit of the award under the company's retirement system, while 3,977 employees have been retired since the adoption of the pension system.

The Philadelphia courts have issued an injunction forbidding Walter A. Young, of that city, to press a suit for divorce from his wife, Anna Nash Young, in the courts of Morelos, Mexico. Judge Gordon, passing on the application, said the Mexican divorce was fraudulent and an obvious effort to evade the laws of Pennsylvania.

The proposal to centralize control of the public schools of Los Angeles county is being urged again—this time as an economy measure. County Auditor Payne is the latest champion of the scheme, which calls for standardization of salaries and purchases of any and every kind through a central purchasing agency. The district school boards, incidentally, would lose just about all authority over local school affairs.

Emergency landing fields 20 miles apart over the length and breadth of Michigan are not only planned but being built as an unemployment relief measure, the State authorities anticipating that within a year or so thousands of Michiganders will be commuting between the cities and the lake resorts.

The prediction that airships will shortly carry mail and passengers from Washington to Paris in 60 hours was made before the Interstate Commerce committee of Congress during a hearing on the Crosser bill, which would authorize the Postmaster General to award transoceanic mail contracts to flying companies. Airships of greater size than the Akron were predicted as an early probability.

Why Ordinance 348!

Ordinance 348 was created to meet the unemployment emergency by cutting red tape and giving property owners needed improvements at minimum cost.

It Provides Work for Sierra Madre Men

Papers in the complaint of members of the Protective and Improvement Association asking for an injunction against the Central Avenue Project, and asking that the city officials be held liable for any money expended on this project, were served on Mayor Reavis, Councilmen Lawless, Layton, Lees and Preston, Business Manager Myers, City Clerk Elmer A. Green, City Engineer Samuel Graham and City Treasurer Carleton J. Pegler.

In a conference of these officials with the city attorney, being advised by the latter their actions were legal, it was the unanimous decision that the Central Avenue improvement should not be stopped, as the unemployed needed the work badly. The following morning the City Treasurer informed the other officials he was not willing to run any risk of personal financial liability and would pay no demands for this work unless forced to do so by mandamus proceedings.

All the remaining officials, realizing the actual catastrophe it would be to the workingmen and the business of this city if improvements under Ordinance 348 were to be stopped at this time, agreed they would risk such personal financial liability as might result from this suit, rather than throw men out of employment.

If necessary, mandamus proceedings will be taken to keep the payroll going.

It saves expensive legal proceedings.

It saves expensive engineering costs.

It saves bond issues with interest for ten or more years.

It keeps the property owner's money in this city instead of paying it to outside contractors.

It prevents the usual plundering of the property owners by bond houses, engineering, paving and ornamental lighting interests.

The present administration expects this ordinance to be fought by local people who may be aligned, knowingly or unknowingly, with paving and lighting interests.

Why is the complaint asking for an injunction against the first project under this ordinance---Central Avenue---signed by men and women who do not own one inch of property on Central Avenue and who will not pay one cent of the cost?

Why are they putting the taxpayers of Sierra Madre to the expense of defending this suit?

Not One Cent of City Tax Money Will Be Used on Central Avenue

East Central property owners pay 2c per square foot---the balance comes from County money allocated for Central Avenue and nothing else.

Do the signers of this complaint really believe the property owners of Sierra Madre are so dishonest they will default on the payment for an improvement for which they have petitioned?

Compare the figures for two jobs for one property owner under two methods

ORDINANCE 348	ACT OF 1911

Paving 28 ft. wide $ 70.00	Paving 17 ft. wide, curbs,
If curb, gutter and 5 ft. sidewalk .. 375.00	gutters, 5 ft. sidewalk

This property owner paid cash on Hermosa and saved interest, yet Ordinance 348 gives almost twice the width of paving at less than one-half the cost!

50 Radio Cruising Cars More Efficient In Crime Suppression Than 2,000 Policemen, Says Chief

RELATING experiences of mayors and uniformed policemen in the past history of Los Angeles, Mayor John C. Porter and Police Chief Roy E. Steckel of Los Angeles addressed the Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Woman's Club House on Tuesday.

Mayor Porter, introduced by Mayor H. C. Reavis, made only slight reference to the election in Los Angeles which is aimed to recall him from office. "I find myself in a difficult position," he said. "A former mayor of Los Angeles resigned from office that he might join a party of lynchers. After the hanging an election was held and he was re-elected. Another mayor committed suicide because he felt bad about an infraction of justice.

Previous to the introduction of Mayor Porter, Gordon Brooks, member of the present county grand jury, and who served on the body which investigated Los Angeles police methods, read from a report praising the force and also made a plea that the public place more confidence in the law enforcement body.

Chief Steckel's talk included several stories of personal experiences that he had had while in patrolman's uniform. The point he stressed was the constant danger that confronts the law officer, and the fact that the officer should be given support of the community's citizenry. When asked by W. J. Lawless of the value of the radio police cars, Chief Steckel said he was proud that he was the man who had helped put the radio system into effect in Los Angeles.

Chief Steckel spoke of the great benefit of radio equipped cars in speeding up police work.

"With the 50 radio equipped cars on the force at present we are able to do better work," he said, "than if we were without the cars and had 2000 more policemen."

Although the depression has placed many men out of work, and crime throughout the country has increased, Los Angeles' crime records have been cut in half, Chief Steckel declared. He requested that citizens give more support to policemen, saying that officers have acquired the habit of expecting as much opposition from citizens during investigations as if they, the citizens, were deliberately aiding criminals.

HOW CITIES GET THEIR GOOD REPUTATION

ANY residential street, being a series of homes, each having its own lawn in front, gives to the city's appearance a definite influence, good, bad or indifferent, according to the character of the development or lack of it. It can be truly said that it is the street trees, attractive homes and well-landscaped lawns that gives cities the name of beautiful.

Let us think of a garden as an attractive outdoor room, rather than a place of orderly beds where flowers or other plants are grown. No matter what type of design or what type of furnishings—if one may speak of the elements of a garden as furnishings—a garden usually does not offer its full complement of enjoyment without that desirable feeling of intimacy and privacy.

Gardens which are part of the house group, and which are entered and viewed from the house, may need walls or barriers on only two or three sides. Other gardens may need to be entirely separated from view that they may not vie with other points of interest for attention and may offer a complete surprise when entered.

The walls or barriers separating the garden from the rest of the grounds may often be of plant materials. Plants used in this manner can be very effective in serving as a screen and providing a truly beautiful element in the general landscape scheme. The barrier may itself become a picture. Where strict formality is desired, it can also be obtained in plant materials, if the varieties which can be clipped are used.

A man's house is his castle, but his front yard, in a sense, belongs to the public. At least, in most American homes, the front lawns are open to the view of the passerby.

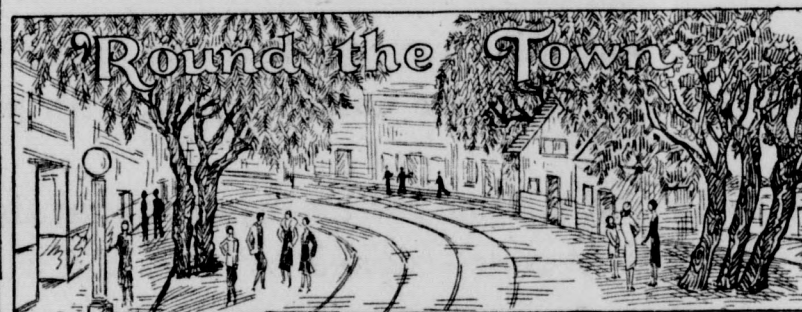

This manner of sharing one's grounds with the public has become so common and universal it can be considered typically American.

The final touch of beauty in the modern garden is supplied by the color of flower beds and borders. Perennial borders, they are usually called, for it is the perennials that dominate in well-planned floral plantings.

It is natural that these flowers, which survive the winters and gain in size and vigor for years when well cared for, should produce taller plants and larger flowers than most annuals, which complete their life's cycle from seed to seed and die in one season. Each month in the garden has perennials which dominate, following one another as the summer advances.

While perennials supply flowers which are unrivaled in their season for size and beauty, there are also among them more delicate subjects, in fact, flowers of every size and every color, which will be happy in sunlight or in shade.

Perennials with good foliage as well as good flowers are particularly desirable for general planting in adding an attractive finishing touch to gardens and borders. All perennials may be purchased and transplanted in the spring.

Many Games To Feature Easter Party

Brer Rabbit—weighed down by the burden of five cases of eggs on his back—came to Sierra Madre today to make plans for tomorrow's Easter egg hunt for 300 local school children.

"In the first place," he said when met by six Volunteer Firemen, "I have been told that Sierra Madre children are artistic. Therefore, at the egg hunt tomorrow I am going to give first and second prizes to the boys or girls who bring to the city park the most beautifully decorated egg."

"The hunt and egg roll is confined to children under 10 years of age," he said, "but we expect many older children and adults to look on. The eggs, colored by our firemen friends, will be hidden throughout the park. Included in the number will be 12 golden eggs. These, if found, will entitle the finder to a real live Easter bunny. There will also be some live chicks, and lots of nice candy eggs. And the children will play games and have a wonderful time."

Indian Guest A Suicide At Great Ranch

Chief Long Lance Ends Career With Pistol At Anita Baldwin Home

Anita Baldwin's leaning toward Indian proteges ended in a tragedy in her home on Sunday when Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance, a Blackfoot, noted as an author, sent a bullet through his brain. Following the tragedy the gates were shut and extra guards patrolled the grounds with orders to "admit no reporters." The deputy sheriffs, summoned from the Temple station, were forced to thoroughly identify themselves before being admitted.

Chief Long Lance, 36 years old, had been a frequent visitor to the ranch. It is said that he was employed by Miss Baldwin in connection with her welfare work among the Indians. No motive for his suicide was disclosed. Deputy Sheriff Frank Gompert said members of the household told him the act was deliberate. The deputy had to pry the .45 calibre revolver from the victim's deadly grip. The bullet had passed through his head and through a window. It could not be found. The Chief had a permit to carry a gun.

Chief Long Lance, when a boy was a trick rider with Buffalo Bill's show. He entered Carlisle in 1909 and was a member of Jim Thorpe's great football team. He won national fame for woodcraft, served with the Canadian army during the war, was badly wounded three times, twice decorated, and discharged a captain. In recognition of his career the Blackfoot Indians made him chief.

He was an internationally known figure, having written numerous stories for leading magazines, and authored several novels, one of which is contained in the local public library.

Long Lance was something of a dual character, being the last word in "Redskin" when among members of his own race, but having the desires and the facility of assuming the personality and the dress of a white man when associating with his civilized friends. He was well known throughout the east, was said to have made many hunting trips with famous men of statesmanship and letters, and resided at various times in famous clubs whose membership consisted of men of an adventurous and traveled background.

Jim Thorpe, in Los Angeles, said he had received a letter from Long Lance a week ago, inviting him to dinner. He was well-to-do and apparently had no worries, said Thorpe.

Dr. Edythe M. Dutcher, Mrs. M. R. MacDowell, Mrs. Gustave Picard and Master Raymond Picard drove to San Pedro on Thursday to see the Empress of Britain and the electrical display put on by the United States fleet.

George Cox of 70 East Montecito avenue, who is undergoing treatment at the Sawtelle Hospital, is reported to be improving.

Jimmy and Billy Jacobs of Alhambra, are spending the Easter vacation at the Corum home, Sturtevant Trail.

John Charles Thomas, baritone, will be presented at the Pasadena Junior College Auditorium next Tuesday evening, March 29, at 8:15 o'clock.
